

Join USANA's Healthy Home Book Club

The Healthy Home has taken North America by storm, and now it's your chance to join the official book club of the newest member of the New York Times best-seller list!

USANA's Healthy Home Book Club will run from May 2 to May 23, and we'll be discussing the book with Associates and Preferred Customers from all over North America via weekly conference calls. It's a great way to learn more about the book so you can not only make effective changes in your own home, but become more familiar with its contents so you can comfortably discuss it with your prospects.

Here's the best part—During each conference call (which will take place on Monday evenings in May) we'll announce an incredible product special, only available to members of the Healthy Home Book Club! Just by joining the call you'll be able to order your favorite USANA products for a fraction of the price.

So what are you waiting for? The Healthy Home Book Club is a fun and informative way to learn all about The Healthy Home while taking advantage of some great product specials as well. Trust us—you don't want to miss it!

Call Information—Conference calls will take place each Monday from May 2 to May 23.
