

Build A Happy, Healthy Business

If you've been to USANA's International Convention, you'll know that one of the secrets to wealth is to create multiple streams of income. That's why USANA encourages new Associates to build their businesses with three Business Centers right off the bat. But some people want even more streams of income. And you know what? That's okay! Just be sure to build your business the right way.

Jack is a USANA Associate who also wants to enroll with another network marketing company. This is okay. But just remember, by joining another company, Jack will no longer be able to participate in some of USANA's most lucrative bonuses, like Elite Bonus or the Leadership Bonus. Jack will also not be allowed to use Downline Management (DLM).

Jack's wife, Jill, wants to join another network marketing company. No problem! It's okay for one spouse to have a USANA business, and the other spouse to build a business with someone else. However...

Jill wants to invite a friend from Jack's downline to join her business. This is NOT okay. After all, Jack worked hard to enroll that person in the first place. This is called unauthorized recruiting, and it is a violation of USANA's Associate Agreement. In fact, Jill is not allowed to try to recruit any other USANA Associate or Preferred Customer (no matter who's downline they're in) to join her business.

Jill has someone else in the downline of her new business try to recruit USANA Associates from Jack's downline. Sorry, Jill. Not allowed.

At USANA, we've put detailed policies and procedures in place to protect all of your hard work. After all, there's no quicker way to true wealth than to ensure your downline is safe and working hard. Looking for additional streams of income? Great! Just do it the right way so we can all stay one big, happy, compliant family.

Want to know more? Visit this month's Compliance Corner for more information about unauthorized recruiting.

